ISI's Board of Directors Welcomes Renee Ring

Washington, D.C. – June 12, 2020 - The Institute for Sustainable Infrastructure (ISI) would like to welcome Renee Ring as its newest board member. Renee will fill the seat recently vacated by Paul Zofnass. Paul has expressed his ongoing commitment to ISI, Envision, and the Zofnass Program for Sustainable Infrastructure as he transitions to a less active role.

ISI is excited to welcome Renee to the board of directors. Renee spent her career as a finance lawyer in New York, and she is currently the COO of the Environmental Financial Consulting Group (EFCG). Renee has extensive experience serving on nonprofit boards and foundations, and she will be an incredible addition to ISI's board. We look forward to her input and guidance moving forward.

We would like to thank Paul for his many years of service and dedication to ISI. His advisory duties, contributions, and oversight have been invaluable to ISI's growth and success as an organization. An avid environmentalist, Paul created the Zofnass Program for Sustainable Infrastructure at Harvard University, which partnered with ISI to create Envision in order to measure the sustainability of civil infrastructure.
