Institute for Sustainable Infrastructure

The Institute for Sustainable Infrastructure is an education and research nonprofit (a 501(c3)) based in Washington DC. It was established in 2010 by the American Public Works Association (APWA), the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE), and the American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC). Responding to the need for a comprehensive sustainability framework and rating system suitable for use in civil infrastructure development, ISI collaborated with the then Zofnass Program for Sustainable Infrastructure at the Harvard University Graduate School of Design to develop Envision.

ENVISION

Envision is a holistic sustainability framework and rating system that guides and assesses the sustainability and resilience of all types of infrastructure. It is a comprehensive tool created to assist agencies, municipalities, consultants, contractors, and operators, in planning, designing, and delivering more sustainable infrastructure projects. The Envision framework is a decision-making tool that allows project teams to evaluate projects across a broad range of sustainability indicators, or "credits," that address environmental, social, and economic dimensions of sustainability to encourage systemic change. At its core, Envision is about supporting higher performance through better choices in infrastructure development.

Sponsorship Packages

The 2026 ISI Annual Conference invites participants to Envision the Future of Sustainability by examining the critical and emerging issues shaping the planning, design, and delivery of civil infrastructure.

In 2025, more than 1,500 attendees from 60 countries joined the free two-day conference that featured 17+ hours of inspiring content.

Recognized as the leading event for sustainable infrastructure practitioners, the conference brings together professionals across the full project lifecycle—including engineers, planners, designers, constructors, owners, operators, policymakers, and procurement leaders—along with students and faculty. This diverse audience creates a dynamic environment for learning, collaboration, and forward-thinking solutions.

Sponsorships allow us to offer this conference as a free event for attendees.
